Comparative and superlative adverbs

We use -er/-est to form the comparative of single-syllable adverbs, and of adverbs which have the same form as their adjectives. Note that the usual spelling rules apply: -y at the end of a word changes to -i, -e at the end of word is left out.

We use more/most to form the comparative of all adverbs that end in -ly (except for adverbs whose form is the same as the adjective; see above).

There are also irregular comparative and superlative adverbs that we have to memorize.

Choose the correct form.

My dog barks _ than my neighbor's dog.

- louder loudest

The bluebird sings _ of all the birds in the garden.

- most beautifully more beautifully

My little sister can draw _ than I can.

- best better

Peter solves math problems _ in our class.

- more quickly most quickly

Could you please read _?

- most slowly more slowly
