Some or Any

Name: Date:

Some or any?

When to Use "Some"
Some is used when referring to a specific, known number of things or people.
For example: I have some apples in the fridge.

When to Use "Any"
Any is used when referring to any number of things or people.
For example: Do you have any apples in the fridge?

Fill in the blanks with some or any.

Tim: Mom, can we go to the Lego store today? I would like to see if they have _____ new Lego sets.

Tim's Mom: Sure Tim, we can go. Maybe we will find _____ Lego sets on sale.

Tim: Great! Can I get _____ new minifigures too?

Tim's Mom: Of course, you can get _____. Do you have _____ money saved for buying them?

Tim: Yes, I have saved _____ allowance money from the past few weeks.

Tim's Mom: That's good to hear. Just remember to spend it wisely and not waste it all in one place.

Tim: Don't worry, Mom, I will be careful. Can we also look for _____ new baseplates?

Tim's Mom: Definitely, I think we can find _____ nice baseplates for your Lego city project.

Tim: Awesome! Do you think they have _____ special deals going on right now?

Tim's Mom: Well, I don't know for certain, but we can check. Maybe we'll get lucky and find _____ good discount.

Tim: That would be great! Thanks, Mom, you're the best.

Tim's Mom: You're welcome, Tim. I enjoy seeing you happy when you shop for your Lego sets.

Some or Any

Name: Date:

Choose the correct answer

Did you find _ new Lego sets on sale at the store?

◯ some   ◯ any

Are there _ new minifigures that you really wanted to get?

◯ any   ◯ some

Did you save _ allowance money for buying new Lego sets?

◯ some   ◯ any

Can you tell us _ more details about the new baseplates you found?

◯ some   ◯ any

Did you get _ rare Lego pieces for your collection?

◯ some   ◯ any

What do you need?

I need some new...

_____

_____

_____

_____